INDEX TO VOLUME CXXXII.

Abbot, S. L. A reminiscence of Dr. Holmes, 267; a case of embolism of the right femoral artery apparently from cardiac weakness, 383.

Abbott, A. C. The effect of the gaseous products of decomposition upon the health of animals that are compelled to respire them, 600.

Abbott, S. W. A report of progress in public hygiene, 359, 385.

Abdominal surgery. Intestinal incision and drainage in acute peritonitis, Mixter, S. J., 206, 212.

Abscess. A self-retaining drainage canula for preventing scar in cervical abscesses, Briggs, F. M., 433.

Acne. Etiology and treatment of acne, 314.

Actinomycosis. Actinomycosis in France, 291; a case of actinomycosis, 296, 309; two cases of actinomycosis hominis, with remarks from a clinical standpoint, Lothrop, H. A., 509; actinomycosis of the abdominal wall, Mixter, S. J., 503.

Adler, L. H. Colotomy and extirpation in cases of cancer of the rectum, 522.

Advertisements. Objectionable advertisements, 494.

Alexander operation. The permanent results from the Alexander operation, Blake, J. G., 410.

Allen, H. Doubt thrown upon the "missing link," 242.

Anatomy. Recent progress in anatomy, Dwight, T., 586.

Anders, J. M. The complications of malaria, with statistics, 548.

Anesthesia. The semi-centennial of anesthesia, 65; does etherization ever cause acute lobar pneumonia? Prescott, W. H., 304, 309; psychological interpretation of hysterical anesthesia, 365; an examination of some recent statistics in regard to ether and a consideration of some present methods of its administration, Blake, J. B., 559, 590.

Aneurism. Sudden death by rupture of thoracic aneurisms previously unrecognized, Draper, F. W., 245.

Animal extracts, 66.

Animals. Tuberculosis among our neat cattle, Osgood, F. H., 326, 336; the effect of the gaseous products of decomposition upon the health of animals that are compelled to respire them, Abbott, A. C., 600.

Anthony, F. W. Rape, 29, 56.

Antitoxin. The Berlin Medical Society on diphtheria antitoxin, 18; the antitoxin treatment in London, 21; notes on antitoxin, Winslow, K., 22; relapse and immunity after diphtheria antitoxin, 67; an epidemic of diphtheria apparently stopped by the use of antitoxin, Morrill, F. G., 80; the priority of the discovery of antitoxin, Ferran, J., 94; questions about diphtheria antitoxin, Hammond, C. B., 219; results of antitoxin treatment, 240; the antitoxin treatment for diphtheria, Withington, C. F., 249; Congressional ignorance and buffoonery respecting antitoxin, 254; the treatment of tetanus by antitoxin, 287; a State supply of diphtheria antitoxin, 315; a symposium on antitoxin, 365, the emancipation of the horse, 391; a case of laryngeal diphtheria treated by antitoxin, Lund, F. B., 484; diphtheria antitoxin and the metropolitan district, 503; the immunizing effects of antitoxin, Morrill, F. G., 633; diphtheria antitoxin, Welch, W. H., 645.

Appendicitis, Gay, G. W., 100.

Asepsis in private practice, Beck, C., 523; surgical technique of aseptic wounds, Marcy, H. O., 524.

Ashmead, A. S. A syphilitic lesion observed in a pre-Columbian skull, 502.

Atkinson, I. E. A case of suppurative pancreatitis, with necropsy, 575.

Autopsies. A report on the bacteriological investigations of autopsies, Wright, J. H., and Stokes, W. R., 271, 330.

Babcock, R. H. Enlargement of the heart without valvular disease, with special reference to treatment, 88.

Baccelli. Intravenous medicated injections according to Prof. Guido Baccelli's method, Hogue, R., 621, 636.

Bacteriology. The importance of bacteriological investigations in cases of diphtheria, McCollom, J. H., 49, 62; remarks on diphtheria, Ernst, H. C., 52, 62; a report on the bacteriological investigations of autopsies, Wright, J. H., and Stokes, W. R., 271, 330; anti-streptococcic sero-therapy, 444; treatment of malignant tumors by the toxines of the streptococcus of erysipelas, Senn, N., 521; bacteriology of water-supplies, 651.

Baker, W. H. Address at dedicatory exercises of the Free Hospital for Women, 121; removal of the uterine appendages for nervous diseases, 224, 234.

Baldness. Baldness and indigestion, 242; the cause of premature baldness, Phillips, L., 474.

Balfour, G. W. Heroic treatment, 218.

Ball, J. W. Treatment of traumatic cataract, attended with rapid swelling of the lens, 111.

Bardeleben, von. Ambulant treatment of fractures of the lower extremities, 582.

Bartlett, B. W. Neurasthenia, 348.

Baumgarten, G. Renal affections following influenza, 600.

Beck, C. Asepsis in private practice, 523.

Bibliography. Abbott, A. C., the principles of bacteriology, 40; Apostoli, G., travaux d'electrotherapie gynecologique, 649; Baudron, E., de l'hysterectomie vaginale, 662; Beard, G. M., sexual neurasthenia [nervous exhaustion], its hygiene, symptoms and treatment, 348; Berry, J. S., clinical medicine, 311; Bigelow, H. R., an international system of electro-therapeutics, 311; Bissell, M. T., a manual of hygiene, 389; Boston Board of Health, annual report, 441; Bournéville, recherches cliniques et therapeutiques sur l'épilepsie l'hysterie, l'idiotie, et l'hydrocephalie, 113; Brauwell, B., atlas of clinical medicine, Vol. III, Part I, 312; Brix, J., Pfuhl, E., and Nocht, Die Bekämpfung der Infectionskrankheiten; hygienischer Theil, 577; Brodie, C. G., dissections illustrated, 16, 649; Brown, F. H., the medical register for New England, 602; Bulkley, L. D., syphilis in the innocent, 313; Burr, C. H., a primer of psychology and mental diseases, 40; Cutler, C. W., practical lectures in dermatology, 313; Demlo, J. A., the Jewish method of slaughter compared with other methods, from the humanitarian, hygienic and economic points of view, 497; Frothingham, L., laboratory guide for the bacteriologist, 285; Hamilton, A. L., a system of legal medicine, 312; Hamilton, W. J., a text-book of pathology, systematic and practical, 525; Harold, J., and Wimmer, S. J., memoranda and tables of human anatomy, 649; Harvard College, annual report, 1893-94, 108; Hovell, T. M., a treatise on the diseases of the ear, 188; Keating, J. M., and Coe, H. C., clinical gynecology, medical and surgical, 576; Keith, S., and Keith, G. W., text-book of abdominal surgery, 627; Kocher, T., operative surgery, 39; Krieger, G. L., blood-serum therapy and antitoxins, 238; Long, J. W., syllabus of gynecology, 312; McFarlane, a clinical manual, 313; Manton, W. P., syllabus of lectures on human embryology, 213; Massachusetts State Board of Lunacy and Charity, sixteenth annual report, 190; medical news visiting list for 1895, 16; Michigan, twenty-sixth annual report relating to the registry and return of births, marriages and deaths for the year 1892, 577; Morris, M., diseases of the skin, 313; Navy, report of the Surgeon-General of the United States Navy, 17; Osler, W., on chorea and choreiform affections, 63; Pilcher, J. E., first aid in illness and injury, 213; Roberts, F. T., the theory and practice of medicine, 312; Robertson, B., landmarks in gynecology, 312; Rohe, G. H., text-book of hygiene, 364; Rolleston, H. D., and Kanthack, A. A., manual of practical morbid anatomy, 313; St. Lawrence Hospital for the Insane, eighth report, 337; Sayre, L. E., a manual of organic materia medica and pharmacognosy, 188; Schwarz, O., Bau, Einrichtung und Beitrieb von Offentlichen Schlachthöfen, 497; Stedman, T. L., twentieth-century practice, 312, 662; Stelwagon, H. W., essentials of diseases of the skin, 313; Warren, J. C., surgical pathology and therapeutics, 310; Woodhull, A. A., notes on military hygiene for officers of the line, 165; Young, J. K., a practical treatise on orthopedic surgery, 537.

Bicycling. Bicycle riding for women, 193; bicycling for women, Townsend, C. W., 503; bicycle saddles for women, Chadwick, J. R., 505; bicycle saddles, Townsend, C. W., 631; bicycle saddles, H. B. J., 675.

Biography. Baxter, M. L., 72; Bemis, J. W., 48; Blackmer, J., 396; Bowles, S. W., 196, 504; Buchanan, G., 584; Byron, J. M., 501; Campbell, H. H., 72; Campbell, P. H., 476; Charcot, J. M., 21, 370; Cornill, W. M., 424; Cupples, G., 448; Detmold, W., 20; Disbrow, W. G., 48; Dubois, F. L., 244; Dubois, R. O., 266; Dujardin-Beaumetz, G. O., 244, 267; Dunbar, H. O., 24; Durham, A. E., 584; Field, M. D., 265; Fisk, C. M., 120; Fitzgerald, J. S., 70; Flagg, W. H., 504; French, N., 448; Goldthwait, H., 45; Gottstein, J., 196; Greely, M. R., 448; Hagar, J., 396; Hallam, A. C., 70; Harris, J. C., 172; Hawkes, J. M., 606; Henry, M., 552; Holman, S. A., 24; Holmes, O. W., 267; Hulke, J. W., 244; Leach, T., 48; Loomis, A. L., 118, 473; Ludwig, K., 448; Meeks, 651; Minot, D. W., 48; Newell, A. D., 266; Ostrander, F. W., 141; Perkins, G. A., 532; Petronio, 372; Pillsbury, L., 141; Robinson, J. D., 556; Roof, S. W., 70; Ruschenberger, W. S. W., 344; Ryder, J. A., 344; Saltonstall, G., 654; Savory, W. S., 320; Sawyer, F. A., 172; Smith, P. C., 421; Spalding, C. P., 448; Sturgis, O., 69; Sutherland, C., 504; Thiersch, K., 448; Tuke, R. H., 268; Vaughan, B. E., 266; Vogt, C., 556; Wallace, A. M., 606; Wallace, W. B., 606; Williams, H. W., 632, 654.

Bishop, L. F. A review of the present state of our knowledge of gout, and a discussion of its comparative frequency in America, 361; a quick method for the filtration of a small quantity of urine, 403; edema of the right upper extremity, 415.

Blake, J. B. An examination of some recent statistics in regard to ether, and a consideration of some present methods of its administration, 559, 590.

Blake, J. G. Permanent results from the Alexander operation, 410.

Blood. Transfusion of blood or infusion of salt solution, 526.

Bloxam, A. A new rhinoplastic operation, 501.

Bone. Acute infectious processes in bone, Park, R., 425, 438; a case of pulmonary hypertrophic osteo-arthropathy, Davis, N. S., Jr., 547.
Bonney, S. G. Methods of treatment of empyema, 373.
Bowditch, V. Y. Observations upon cases having the so-called "taches bleuâtres" in the Boston City Hospital, 231.
Bowen, J. T. Report on dermatology, 305.
Bowker, E. M. End of a vaccine virus controversy, 583.
Bradford, E. H., and Brackett, E. G. Recent progress in orthopedic surgery, 132, 154.
Brain. Four cases of brain surgery, Putnam, J. J., 14; tumor of the cerebellum with bulimia and recurrent apoplectiform seizures, Eskridge, J. T., 25; unusual malformations of the brain, Wilder, B. G., 46; a consideration of some of the indications for operation in head injuries, Bullard, W. N., 73, 83; radical operation for infiltrating cerebral growths, 166; diagnosis of chronic hydrocephalus in early stages, before enlargement of the skull has occurred, 339.
Breast. The care of the breasts after labor, Reynolds, E., 345; tumors of the mammary gland, Rodman, W. L., 522.
Briggs, F. M. A self-retaining drainage canula for preventing scar in cervical abscess, 433.
Bright's disease of a primarily infectious nature, 40.
Brinton, D. G. The missing link found at last, 193.
Bronchitis. The abortive treatment of acute bronchitis, 238.
Brooks, W. A., Jr. The educational aspects of physical training, 562, 567.
Broom, G. W. Scientific uses of the surgical flap, 524.
Brouardel. Sudden death, 606.
Broughton, H. W. Two cases of sudden death in childbed, 53, 65.
Buchman, A. P. Intestinal indigestion, 89.
Buckingham, E. M. Medical treatment of diphtheria, 147, 159.
Bullard, W. N. A consideration of some of the indications for operation in head injuries, 73, 83.
Burr, A. H. Hydrotherapy in fevers; its rationale and technique, 547.
Burrage, W. L. Fish-boiler portable sterilizer, 38; cases of retrodeviation of the pregnant uterus, including a case of pregnancy in an incarcerated cornu and a case complicated by an ovarian tumor, with remarks, 380, 388; multiple fibroid of the uterus weighing four and a quarter pounds, 596.
Burrell, H. L. Address at the annual dinner of the Massachusetts Medical Society, 617.
Burrell, H. L., and Cushing, H. W. Recent progress in surgery, 488, 540, 565.
Cæsarean Section, with the report of a case, Haven, G., 179, 188.
California. The invalid tourist in Southern California, Tisdale, W. M., 194.
Calomel: a study of its physiological action and therapy in 144 cases of gastro-intestinal disorders. Is it a diuretic, per se? Stewart, W. B., 544.
Carcinoma. The etiology of carcinoma, 138.
Cary, C. The cause of the exaggeration of sounds over the right upper chest both in health and disease, 626.
Catgut. The sterilization of catgut, Johnston, 475.
Chadwick, J. R. Bicycle saddles for women, 595.
Charcot. A fund for a bronze statue to Charcot, 21; Charcot monument fund, 423.
Chicago. Mortality of Chicago during the past winter, Reynolds, A. R., 422.
Children. Report on diseases in children, Rotch, T. M., and Wentworth, A. H., 59.
Cholera. Credit side of the cholera account, 142; Haffkine's inoculation against cholera, 191; the treatment of Asiatic cholera, Lee, E., 545.
Chorea. Quinine in the treatment of chorea, Fry, F. R., and Bliss, M. A., 89; the treatment of chorea, with especial reference to the use of quinine, Knapp, P. C., 204, 210.
Circulatory System. Enlargement of the heart without valvular disease, with special reference to treatment, Babcock, R. H., 88; cases of pregnancy complicated by heart disease, Sears, G. G., 176; sudden death by the rupture of thoracic aneurisms previously unrecognized, Draper, F. W., 245; three cases of spontaneous hemophilia in brothers, 263; a successful case of cardiocentesis, Sloan, A. T., 368; a case of embolism of the right femoral artery apparently from cardiac weakness, Abbot, S. L., 383; the injection of stimulants into the heart-walls, Clark, L. P., 395; recent progress in thoracic disease, Sears, G. G., 405; a successful operation for purulent pericarditis, Eiselsberg, 447; electrolysis in the treatment of sacculated aneurism through introduced wire, with report of a successful case, Stewart, D. D., 523; cardiac instability due to acid auto-intoxication, English, W. T., 549; the therapeutics of the senile heart, Pattee, A. F., 549; etiology of idiopathic hypertrophy of the heart, Whittaker, J. T., 624; the transmission of mitral diastolic murmurs, Griffith, J. P. C., 625; the use of the differential stethoscope in the study of cardiac murmurs, Smith, A., 626.
Clark, L. P. The injection of stimulants into the heart-walls, 395.
Clarke, A. P. Report of a case of unilateral cystic degeneration of the kidney complicated by tubercular peritonitis, 10.
Climate. Sanitary climatology, 92.
Cline, L. C. Some observations on sore throat due to concretions in the tonsils, 111.
Cocaine. Another case of cocaine poisoning, Schede, 582.
Coggin, D. Collodion in plastic operations, 531.
Coley, W. B. The treatment of inoperable malignant tumors with erysipelas and prodigiosus toxins, 95.
Collins, L. C. A case of tabes associated with unilateral reflex iridoplegia and post-hemiplegic athetosis, 417.
Collodion in plastic operations, Coggin, D., 531.
Congress of Internal Medicine, 442.
Coolidge, A., Jr. Recent progress in laryngology, 186.
Councilman, W. T. Recent progress in pathology, 256, 282.
Courtney, S. E. Report of four cases of puerperal eclampsia occurring in the Boston City Hospital, 486, 490.
Craig colony for epileptics, 239.
Currie, J. Z. Puerperal septicemia, with case, 612.
Curtis, F. G. "Scarlet fever with especial reference to contagion and prophylaxis," 71.
Cushing, E. W. Remote results of the removal of the uterus and ovaries, 151, 163.
Cutaneous System. A mechanical treatment of eczema in children, Hall, H. J., 59; a case of frog-skin grafting, Smith, G. S., 79; report on dermatology, Bowen, J. T., 305; the etiology and treatment of acne, 314.
Cutler, E. G. Hemorrhagic pancreatitis, 354, 361.
Daly, W. H. Malaria a water-borne disease, 88.
Dana, C. L. A case of acute poliomyelitis in a hen, 14.
Dandridge, N. P. Rose's operation for trigeminal neuralgia, 397, 412.
Davenport, F. H. Report on progress in gynecology, 461.
Davis, N. S., Jr. A case of pulmonary hypertrophic osteo-arthropathy, 547.
Death. Sudden death, Brouardel, 606; the causes of sudden death, Durell, T. M., 640.
Deaver, J. B. Appendicitis, 520.
DeGarmo, W. B. What advance has been made in the radical cure of hernia? 520.
Degeneracy in literature, 286.
Denny, C. P. A case of persistent hematuria, 183.
Denver. A letter from Denver, Edson, C. E., 369.
Derby, H. Hints concerning the performance of the operation for the extraction of senile cataract, being a record of personal experience, 97.
Diabetes. The pathogeny of diabetes, 114.
Diagnosis. Deferred diagnosis, McCallum, O. F., 9.
Digestive System. Case of unilateral cystic degeneration of the kidney complicated by tubercular peritonitis, Clarke, A. P., 10; successful laparotomies for perforating typhoid and perforating gastric ulcers, 42; intestinal indigestion, Buchman, A. P., 89; appendicitis, Gay, G. W., 100; a case of congenital diaphragmatic hernia, Sears, G. G., 107; some observations on sore throat due to concretions in the tonsils, Cline, L. C., 111; the pathogeny of diabetes, 114; the surgical treatment of general peritonitis, 115; a new journal devoted to the digestive organs, Friedenwald, J., 171; the microbiology of acute peritonitis, 189; total resection of the stomach, Langenbuch, 193; intestinal incision and drainage in acute peritonitis, Mixter, S. J., 206, 212; the stomach test in murder trials, Liebmann, G., 207; baldness and indigestion, 242; clinical features and treatment of external piles, 269; two cases of dermoid cyst of the ovary, involving the large intestine, removal of cysts, resection of intestine and end-to-end suture, recovery, Richardson, M. H., 399, 408; three cases of hereditary rumination, Runge, E. C., 515; what advance has been made in the radical cure of hernia? DeGarmo, W. B., 520; appendicitis, Deaver, J. B., 520; is total extirpation of the rectum ever justified? Matthews, J. M., 522; colotomy and extirpation in cases of cancer of the rectum, Adler, J. M., 522; ileus, Murphy, J. B., 523; surgical treatment of hemorrhoids, Trowbridge, E. H., 536; the differential diagnosis of cholelithiasis, Webster, G. W., 574; new methods of precision in the investigation of functional disorders of digestion, Webster, G. W., 575; a case of suppurative pancreatitis, with necropsy, Atkinson, I. E., 575.
Dinner to three new medical baronets, 447.
Diphtheria. The Berlin Medical Society on diphtheria antitoxin, 18; the antitoxin treatment in London, 21; the importance of bacteriological investigations in cases of diphtheria, McCollom, J. H., 49, 62; remarks on diphtheria, Ernst, H. C., 52, 62; relapse and immunity after diphtheria antitoxin, 67; an epidemic of diphtheria apparently stopped by the use of antitoxin, Morrill, F. G., 80; medical treatment in diphtheria, Mason, A. L., 145, 159; medical treatment of diphtheria, Buckingham, E. M., 147, 159; a clinical and experimental study of the leucocytosis of diphtheria, Morse, J. L., 228, 252; the antitoxin treatment for diphtheria, Withington, C. F., 249; a State supply of diphtheria antitoxin, 315; diphtheria, intubation, nasal feeding, recovery, Stearns, C. B., 404; nuclein in diphtheria, Jacobson, W., 422; observations on diphtheria, McCollom, J. H., 449, 464; a case of laryngeal diphtheria treated by antitoxin, Lund, F. B., 484; the immunizing effects of antitoxin, Morrill, F. G., 633; diphtheria antitoxin, Welch, W. H., 645.
Doonan, J. B. Address at dinner of the Massachusetts Medical Society, 620.
Draper, F. W. Recent progress in legal medicine, 232; sudden death by the rupture of thoracic aneurisms previously unrecognized, 245.
Durell, T. M. The causes of sudden death, 640.
Dwight, T. Recent progress in anatomy, 596.
Ear. Remarks upon stapedectomy, Jack, F. L., 34, 39; the removal of the auditory ossicles for the relief of chronic deafness and other abnormal conditions, Heflebower, R. C., 111; Halle and the aural clinic of Professor Schwartze, Richards, G. L., 275.
Eaton, K. G. Leucocytosis in poisoning by illuminating-gas, 256.
Eczema. A mechanical treatment of eczema in young children, Hall, H. J., 59.
Edema of the right upper extremity, Bishop, L. F., 415.
Editorials. Report of the Surgeon-General of the United States Navy, 17; the city insane asylums on Ward's Island, New York, 18; the Berlin Medical Society on diphtheria antitoxin, 18; the position of the Philadelphia Hospital trustees, 18; Bright's disease of a primarily infectious nature, 40; successful laparotomies for perforating typhoid and perforating gastric ulcers, 42; the semi-centennial of anesthesia, 65; animal extracts, 66; relapse and immunity after diphtheria antitoxin, 67; hypnotism and murder, 67; gonorrheal infection of the nervous system, 90; report on New York tenement-houses, 91; a chair of anatomy, physiology and hygiene at West Point, 92; sanitary climatology, 92; the pathogeny of diabetes, 114; the surgical treatment of general peritonitis, 115; castration for hypertrophy of the prostate, 116; the etiology of carcinoma, 138; the bill for the reorganization of the personnel of the navy, 139; radical operation for infiltrating cerebral growths, 166; the annual report of Harvard College, 1893-94, 168; the microbiology of acute peritonitis, 189; the sixteenth annual report of the Massachusetts State Board of Lunacy and Charity, 190; Haffkine's inoculation against cholera, 191; the ambulant treatment of fractures of the lower extremity, 213; a metropolitan water-supply, 215; nervous diseases and modern life, 215; the abortive treatment of acute bronchitis, 238; Craig colony for epileptics, 239; results of antitoxin treatment, 240; three cases of spontaneous hemophilia in brothers, 263; Congressional ignorance and buffoonery respecting antitoxin, 264; degeneracy in literature, 286; the treatment of tetanus by antitoxin, 287; the relation of heredity to insanity and idiocy, 314; etiology and treatment of acne, 314; a State supply of diphtheria antitoxin, 315; report of the St. Lawrence Hospital for the Insane, 337; an epidemic of leprosy in Riga, 339; diagnosis of chronic hydrocephalus in early stages, before enlargement of the skull has occurred, 339; psychological interpretation of hysterical anesthesia, 365; inspection of meat, 366; on hereditary cerebellar ataxia, 389; the emancipation of the horse, and its dangers, 391; scientific research in medicine, 419; the thirteenth Congress of Internal Medicine, 442; anti-streptococcus sero-therapy, 444; annual report of the Boston Board of Health, 444; a history of the Pennsylvania Hospital, 470; temperance teaching in the public schools, 471; the vital statistics of England for 1894, 472; the British royal commission on tuberculosis, 498; the navy medical service, 499; transfusion of blood or infusion of salt solution, 526; a report of one thousand excisions of the thyroid, 527; the Keeley cure versus the rational treatment of inebriety, 550; a dangerous popular antiseptic, 551; experimental myelitis, 578; excision of the sterno-mastoid muscle for wry-neck, 579; a new theory regarding the physiology of the nerve centres, 603; a medical-practice law in Rhode Island, 604; the alleged exaltation of faculty in "second states," 627; should a preliminary course in the liberal arts be required for admission to our medical schools, 629; the treatment of tetany by thyroid extract, 650; the bacteriology of water-supplies, 651.

Edson, C. E. Letter from Denver, 369.

Education. New York Medical College, 45; a chair of anatomy, physiology and hygiene at West Point, 92; the annual report of Harvard College, 1893–94, 168; temperance teaching in the public schools, 471; should a preliminary course in the liberal arts be required for admission to our medical schools? 629.

Eiselsberg. A successful operation for purulent pericarditis, 447.

Elliot, J. W. Surgical treatment of pancreatitis, with a case, 351, 361.

Embryos. Human embryos desired, Minot, C. S., 243.

Empyema. Metapneumonic empyema, Withington, C. F., 5, 12; methods of treatment of empyema, Bonney, S. G., 373.

English, W. T. Cardiac instability due to acid auto-intoxication, 549.

Epilepsy. Craig colony for epileptics, 239.

Ernst, H. C. Remarks on diphtheria, 52, 62.

Eskridge, J. T. Tumor of the cerebellum, with bulimia and recurrent apoplectiform seizures, 25.

Ether. An examination of some recent statistics in regard to ether and a consideration of some present methods of its administration, Blake, J. B., 559, 590.

Eye. Recent progress in ophthalmology, Standish, Myles, 11; hints concerning the performance of the operation for the extraction of senile cataract, being a record of personal experience, Derby, H., 97; treatment of traumatic cataract attended with rapid swelling of the lens, Ball, J. M., 111; the dangers in removing foreign bodies from the cornea, Harvey, N. D., 130; a six-day record of ophthalmic surgery, Hall, G. C., 422; some of the simpler tests for detecting errors of refraction and insufficiencies of the ocular muscles, Proctor, F. I., 481.

Femur. Removal of head of femur for dislocation into lesser sciatic notch, Ricketts, B. M., 110.

Fenwick, E. H. Effects of castration upon the enlarged prostate, 318.

Ferran, J. The priority of the discovery of antitoxin, 94.

Fever. Hydrotherapy in fevers, its rationale and technique, Burr, A. H., 547.

Food. Inspection of meat, 366.

Foot. Flat-foot, Ricketts, B. M., 524; a report of cases in which there was obliteration of the anterior transverse arch of the foot, Goldthwait, J. E., 564, 572.

Forbes, S. F. Excision of the knee-joint with report of a case of complete dislocation of the knee of nine years' standing, with especial reference to methods of fixation, 524.

Fractures. The ambulant treatment of fractures of the lower extremity, 213; fracture of the humerus from an unusual cause, Monks, G. H., 281; a simple method of dressing fractures of the extremities auxiliary to the bandage, Link, J. E., 525; deformities following fractures of the shafts of bones, Manley, T. H., 525; another case of "fracture of the humerus from an unusual cause," Taylor, J. M., 554; ambulant treatment of fractures of the lower extremities, von Bardeleben, 582.

Free Hospital for Women. Address at dedicatory exercises, Baker, W. H., 121.

Friedenwald, J. A new journal devoted to the digestive organs, 171.

Frog-Skin. A case of frog-skin grafting, Smith, G. S., 79.

Fry, F. R., and Bliss, M. A. Quinine in the treatment of chorea, 89.

Furbringer. A case of tubercular meningitis, diagnosis by lumbar puncture, recovery, 21.

Gage, H. Movable kidney, 520.

Galactopathy. Wigglesworth, E., 219.

Gas. Leucocytosis in poisoning by illuminating-gas, Eaton, W. G., 256.

Gaston, J. McF. Radical interference in diseases of the chest, 521.

Gavin, M. F. A case of castration for hypertrophied prostate, 437.

Gay, G. W. Appendicitis, 100.

Generative System. Recent progress in genito-urinary surgery, Watson, F. S., 35; myoma of the uterus, Porter, C. B., 62; the treatment of uterine fibroids with report of cases, Wheeler, L., 103; castration for hypertrophied prostate, Ricketts, B. M., 110; laparotomy for pelvic diseases no longer a necessity, Sutton, R. S., 112; on some of the clinical features of primary tuberculosis of the genito-urinary organs, Watson, F. S., 121, 135; congenital phimosis, 142; remote results of the removal of the uterus and ovaries, Cushing, E. W., 151, 163; ultimate results of the removal of ovaries and tubes, Mumford, J. G., 153, 164; multilocular cyst of the ovary, double ovariotomy, recovery, Phelps, J. S., 185; the surgical treatment of fibroid tumor of the uterus, Homans, J., 221, 258; removal of the uterine appendages for nervous diseases, Baker, W. H., 224, 234; effects of castration upon the enlarged prostate, Fenwick, E. H., 318; a fibroid tumor of the uterus, Warren, J. C., 361; report of cases of castration for the relief of prostatic hypertrophy, with remarks, Watson, F. S., 378; two cases of dermoid cyst of the ovary involving the large intestine, removal of cysts, resection of intestine, and end-to-end suture, recovery, Richardson, M. H., 399, 408; the permanent results from the Alexander operation, Blake, J. G., 410; a case of castration for hypertrophied prostate, Gavin, M. F., 437; vaginal hysterectomy after Martin's method, Lothrop, H. A., 458; report on progress in gynecology, Davenport, F. H., 461; the radical cure of hydrocele, Hawley, D. C., 520; transverse septa of the vagina, Stone, A. K., 533, 543; case of septum of the vagina, Torrey, S. W., 539; pelvic inflammations, Green, C. M., 541; multiple fibroid of the uterus weighing four and a quarter pounds, Burrage, W. L., 586; abdominal hysterectomy in the treatment of septic pelvic disease and for cancer of the os uteri, Irish, J. C., 615.

Goldthwait, J. E. A section of a spine, 360; a report of cases in which there was obliteration of the anterior transverse arch of the foot, 564, 572.

Gonorrhea. Acute gonorrheal rheumatism, Lilienthal, H., 75; gonorrheal infection of the nervous system, 90.

Gout. A review of the present state of our knowledge of gout and a discussion of its comparative frequency in America, Bishop, L. F., 364.

Gray, L. C. Palmus, 416.

Green, C. M. Pelvic inflammations, 541.

Greenhalge, F. T. Address before the Massachusetts Medical Society, 617.

Griffith, J. P. C. The transmission of mitral diastolic murmurs, 625.

Gun-shot Wounds. Successful laparotomy for revolver wound of the abdomen in a pregnant woman, 342; deflection of bullets by tissues, Hall, J. N., 502.

Gynecology. Report on progress in gynecology, Davenport, F. H., 461.

Haffkine's inoculation against cholera, 191.

Hair. Baldness and indigestion, 242.

Hall, G. C. A six-day record of ophthalmic surgery, 422.

Hall, H. J. A mechanical treatment of eczema in young children, 59.

Hall, J. N. Deflection of bullets by tissues, 502.

Halle and the aural clinic of Professor Schwartze, Richards, G. L., 275.

Hammond, C. B. Questions about diphtheria antitoxin, 219.

Hare, C. H. A case of eclampsia, death, 487, 490.

Harvey, N. D. The dangers in removing foreign bodies from the cornea, 130.

Haven, G. Cæsarean section, with report of a case, 179, 188.

Hawley, D. C. The radical cure of hydrocele, 520.

Head. The surgical treatment of injuries of the head, Parker, C. B., 110.

Health. The report of a committee on establishing a national department of public health, 495.

Heat prostration, an analysis of one hundred cases occurring in thirteen consecutive years, 511.

Hellebower, R. C. The removal of the auditory ossicles for the relief of chronic deafness and other abnormal conditions, 111.

Hemophilia. Three cases of spontaneous hemophilia in brothers, 263.

Hemorrhoids. Clinical features and treatment of external piles, Otis, W. J., 269; surgical treatment of hemorrhoids, Trowbridge, E. H., 536.

Hernia. A case of congenital diaphragmatic hernia, Sears, G. G., 107; what advance has been made in the radical cure of hernia? DeGarmo, W. B., 520.

Heroic treatment, Balfour, G. W., 219.

Higgins, F. A., and Ogden, J. B. Traumatic glycosuria, 197.

Hingston, W. H. Address at dinner of the Massachusetts Medical Society, 621.

Hogner, R. Criticism on the usual method of measurement of chest-expansion in life insurance examinations, and stethokyrtographical studies of the bilateral expansion of the chest, 453; intravenous medicated injections according to Prof. Guido Baccelli's method, 621, 636.

Hollister, J. C. New departure in therapeutics, 544.

Holmes, O. W. A characteristic letter from Dr. Holmes, 22.

Holton, H. D. The address on State medicine, 496.

Holyoke, W. C. Some cases of scarlet fever with especial reference to contagion and prophylaxis, 32.

Homans, J. The surgical treatment of fibroid tumors of the uterus, 221, 258; anatomical specimens, 258.

Hospital. Ethics of the metropolitan surgeon and the metropolitan hospital, 118; address at dedicatory exercises of the Free Hospital for Women, Baker, W. H., 121.

Hydrocele. The radical cure of hydrocele, Hawley, D. C., 520.

Hygiene. Report of progress in public hygiene, Abbott, S. W., 359, 385.

Hypnotism and murder, 67.

Ileus. Murphy, J. B., 523.

Infectious Disease. The immunity conferred by an attack of infectious disease, Maiselis, 46.

Instruments and Apparatus. Fish-boiler portable sterilizer, Burrage, W. L., 38; the value of the stomach-tube in feeding after intubation, based upon twenty-eight cases, also its use in post-diphtheritic paralysis, Morrison, W. A., 127, 137; Orthman's instrument in vaginal fixation of the uterus, Sherman, F. M., 159; a self-retaining drainage canula for preventing scar in cervical abscesses, Briggs, F. M., 433.

Irish, J. C. Abdominal hysterectomy in the treatment of septic pelvic disease and for cancer of the os uteri, 615.

Ishiguro. The care of the sick and wounded in the Japanese army, 266.

Jack, F. L. Remarks on stapedectomy, 34, 39.

Jackson, J. M. Symphyseotomy, 181, 188.

Jackson, W. Nuclein in diphtheria, 422.

Japan. The care of the sick and wounded in the Japanese army, Ishiguro, 266.

Johnston. The sterilization of catgut, 475.

Jurisprudence. Hypnotism and murder, 67; brief mention of a few cases of nervous and mental malady involving medico-legal questions, Rosse, I. C., 173; the stomach test in murder trials, Liebmann, G., 207; recent progress in legal medicine, Draper, F. W., 232; persistent attempts at self-destruction, a remarkable method of suicide, Morrow, C. H., 334; the murder of James Farrar, Mead, J. A., 402, 418; the causes of sudden death, Durell, T. M., 630.

Keefe, J. W. A case of subcutaneous suture of a fractured patella, 10.

Keeley cure versus the rational treatment of inebriety, 550.

Keen, W. W. Dogs, women, men, humanity, 290.

Kellogg, D. S. A long period of fecundity, 551.

Kellogg, J. H. New methods of precision in the investigation of functional disorders of digestion, 575.

Kenwood. Milk-borne throat illness, phenomenal epidemic, 631.

Knapp, P. C. Recent progress in diseases of the nervous system, 81, 108; the treatment of chorea with especial reference to the use of quinine, 201, 210; address before American Neurological Association, 557.

Knee. Tumor albus of the knee-joint, Wirt, W. E., 111; resection of the knee for separation of the lower epiphysis of the femur, Meisenbach, A. H., 111; excision of the knee with report of a case of complete dislocation of the knee of nine years' standing, with especial reference to methods of fixation, Forbes, S. F., 524.

Langenbuch. Total resection of the stomach, 193.

Lanphear, E. Bone and joint tuberculosis the future field of litigation against railways, 87.

Laparotomy. Successful laparotomies for perforating typhoid and perforating gastric ulcers, 42; laparotomy for pelvic diseases no longer a necessity, Sutton, R. S., 112; successful laparotomy for revolver wound of the abdomen in a pregnant woman, 342.

Larynx. Recent progress in laryngology, Coolidge, A., Jr., 186.

Lead encephalopathy, with report of a case, Roussel, A. E., 570.

Lee, E. The treatment of Asiatic cholera, 545.

Leffingwell, A. The American Humane Association and vivisection, 243; a reply to Prof. H. C. Wood, 371; Dr. Leffingwell to Dr. Wood, 423.

Legal Medicine. Recent progress in legal medicine, Draper, F. W., 232.

Legislation. Recent medical legislation in Minnesota, 530.

Leprosy. An epidemic of leprosy in Riga, 359.

Leszynsky, W. M. An opening in the skull, 416.

Leucocytosis. A clinical and experimental study of leucocytosis of diphtheria, Morse, J. L., 228, 252; leucocytosis in poisoning by illuminating gas, Eaton, R. G., 256.

Leucomain poisoning, Ruehford, B. K., 589.

Liebmann, G. The stomach test in murder trials, 207.

Lilienthal, H. Acute gonorrheal rheumatism, 75.

Link, J. E. A simple method of dressing fractures of the extremities auxiliary to the bandage, 525.

Literature. Degeneracy in literature, 286.

Loeb, H. W. Double nasal atresia due to small-pox, 112.

Lothrop, H. A. Two cases of actinomycosis hominis, with remarks from a clinical standpoint, 300; vaginal hysterectomy after Martin's method, 458.

Lovett, R. W. The flaxseed-meal poultice as a sterile dressing, 329.

Lund, F. B. A case of laryngeal diphtheria treated by antitoxin, 484.

Lydston, G. F. Remarks on the relation of residual urine to vesical irritation, especially in prostatics, 112.

McCallum, O. F. Deferred diagnosis, 9.

Maclean, D. Address at annual meeting of the American Medical Association, 493.

McCollom, J. H. The importance of bacteriological investigations in cases of diphtheria, 49; observations on diphtheria, 449, 464.

Maiselis. The immunity conferred by an attack of infectious disease, 46.

Malaria. Malaria a water-borne disease, Daly, W. H., 88; the histogenesis of the plasmodium malariæ, Rogers, F. A., 125; malarial disorders in large cities with especial reference to Chicago, 491; the complications of malaria, with statistics, Anders, J. M., 518.

Mallory, F. B. A case of actinomycosis, 296.

Manley, T. H. Deformities following fractures of the shafts of bone, 525.

Marcy, H. O. Modern surgical technique, 113; surgical technique of aseptic wounds, 524.

Marion, H. E. Clinical chart of a child with mild typhoid fever, 61; early curetting in puerperal sepsis, 538.

Martin, F. C. "End of a vaccine virus controversy," 607.

Mason, A. L. Medical treatment in diphtheria, 145, 159.

Materia Medica and Therapeutics. The Berlin Medical Society on diphtheria antitoxin, 18; the antitoxin treatment in London, 21; notes on antitoxin, Winslow, K., 22; serum-therapy in Paris, Roeth, A. G., 22; animal extracts, 66; relapse and immunity after diphtheria antitoxin, 67; quinine in the treatment of chorea, Fry, F. R., and Bliss, M. A., 89; the treatment of inoperable malignant tumors with erysipelas and prodigiosus toxins, Coley, W. B., 95; steam as a hemostatic, Smegirew, W. F., 142; galactopathy, Wigglesworth, E., 219; cold in the treatment of pneumonia, Mays, T. J., 343; the injection of stimulants into the heart walls, Clark, L. P., 395; nuclein in diphtheria, Jackson, W., 422; sulphonal and trional compared, Webber, S. G., 516; new departures in therapeutics, Hollister, J. C., 544; calomel, a study of its physiological action and therapy in 144 cases of gastro-intestinal disorders. Is it a diuretic, per se? Stewart, W. B., 544; hydrotherapy in fevers, its rationale and technique, Burr, A. H., 547; the effects of pure oxygen introduced into the body in various ways upon the hemoglobin, Preston, G. J., 549; a dangerous popular antiseptic, 551; leucocytes and protonuclein, Summers, T. O., 576.

Matthews, J. M. Is total extirpation of the rectum ever justified? 522.

Mayo. A fatal case of poisoning by Mayo's vegetable vapor, Sweetsir, F. E., 107.

Mays, T. J. Cold in the treatment of pneumonia, 343.

Mead, J. A. The murder of James Farrar, 402, 418.

Meat. Inspection of meat, 566.

Meisenbach, A. H. Resection of the knee for separation of the lower epiphysis of the femur, 111.

Mercer, A. C. Photo-micrograph versus micro-photograph, 71.

Microscopy. Photo-micrograph versus micro-photograph, Mercer, A. C., 71; micro-photographs, 95.

Mind. The city insane asylums on Ward's Island, New York, 18; the mental symptoms of cerebral syphilis, a clinical study, Norbury, F. P., 110; the relation of heredity to insanity and idiocy, 314; asylum physicians and commitment certificates, Stedman, H. R., 321; report of the St. Lawrence Hospital for the Insane, 337; the alleged exaltation of faculty in "second states," 627; report on mental diseases, Stedman, H. R., 642.

Minnesota. Recent medical legislation in Minnesota, 530.

Minot, C. S. Human embryos desired, 243.

"Missing Link." The missing link found at last, Brinton, D. G., 193; doubt thrown upon the "missing link," Allen, H., 242.

Mixter, S. J. Intestinal incision and drainage in acute peritonitis, 205, 212; actinomycosis of the abdominal wall, 303.

Monks, G. H. Fracture of the humerus from an unusual cause, 281.

Morrill, F. G. An epidemic of diphtheria apparently stopped by the use of antitoxin, 89; the immunizing effects of antitoxin, 633.

Morrison, W. A. The value of the stomach-tube in feeding after intubation, based upon twenty-eight cases, also its use in post-diphtheritic paralysis, 127, 137.

Morrow, C. H. Persistent attempts at self-destruction, a remarkable method of suicide, 334.

Morse, J. L. A clinical and experimental study of leucocytosis of diphtheria, 228, 252.

Mumford, J. G. Ultimate results of the removal of ovaries and tubes, 153, 164.

Murphy, J. B. Ileus, 523.

Myelitis. Experimental myelitis, 578.

Navy. Report of the surgeon-general of the United States Navy, 17; the bill for the reorganization of the personnel of the navy, 139; pay of naval medical officers, 491; the navy medical service, 499.

Nervous System. Four cases of brain surgery, Putnam, J. J., 14; exhibition of micro-photographs of nerve cells (Golgi's stains), Starr, M. A., 14; a case of acute poliomyelitis in a hen, Dana, C. L., 14; some of the important aspects of the therapeutics of diseases of the nervous system, Putnam, J. J., 15; trephining in meningitis, Ricketts, B. M., 21; a case of tubercular meningitis, diagnosis by lumbar puncture, recovery, Fürbringer, 21; a mindless frog, Wilder, B. G., 22; tumor of the cerebellum with bulimia and recurrent apoplectiform seizures, Eskridge, J. T., 25; a consideration of some of the indications for operation in head injuries, Bullard, W. N., 73, 83; a case of fracture of the base of the skull, probably involving the cavernous sinus, operation, recovery, Watson, F. S., 78, 83; recent progress in diseases of the nervous system, Knapp, P. C., 81, 107; reflex irritation as a cause of disease, Walker, E., 89; gonorrheal infection of the nervous system, 90; trephining for pressure as a result of acute cerebral meningitis, Ricketts, B. M., 110; radical operation for infiltrating cerebral growths, 166; brief mention of a few cases of nervous and mental malady involving medico-legal questions, Rosse, I. C., 173; the treatment of chorea, with especial reference to the use of quinine, Knapp, P. C., 201, 210; nervous diseases and modern life, 215; removal of the uterine appendages for nervous diseases, Baker, W. H., 224, 234; Craig colony for epileptics, 239; the treatment of tetanus by antitoxin, 287; neurasthenia, Bartlett, B. W., 248; psychological interpretation of hysterical anesthesia, 365; on hereditary cerebellar ataxia, 389; Rose's operation for trigeminal neuralgia, Dandridge, N. P., 397, 412; the nasal origin of many trigeminal neuralgias, Spear, E. D., 412; anatomical specimens, Walton, 415; brain specimen, Wiener, A., 415; edema of the right upper extremity, Bishop, L. F., 415; an opening in the skull, Leszynsky, W. M., 416; pathological specimens of infantile paralysis, Stieglitz, L., 416; palmus, Gray, L. C., 416; a case of tabes associated with unilateral reflex iridoplegia and post-hemiplegic athetosis, Collins, J., 417; a successful operation on a spina bifida, Woodward, S. B., 460; remarks on the psychical treatment of neurasthenia, Putnam, J. J., 505, 516; toxic origin of nervous diseases, Sterne, A. E., 549; address before American Neurological Association, Knapp, P. C., 557; experimental myelitis, 578; a new theory regarding the physiology of the nerve centres, 605; the treatment of tetany by thyroid extract, 650.

New York. New York medical college, 45; report on New York tenement houses, 91.

Neurasthenia. Neurasthenia, Bartlett, B. W., 248; remarks on the psychical treatment of neurasthenia, Putnam, J. J., 505, 516.

Nichols, A. H. Vivisection, a reply to H. C. Wood, M.D., 370.

Norbury, F. P. The mental symptoms of cerebral syphilis, a clinical study, 110.

Norton, C. E. Address at dinner of the Massachusetts Medical Society, 618.

Nose. Double nasal atresia due to small-pox, Loeb, H. W., 112; cases illustrating the plastic surgery of the nose and palate, an operation for cleft palate, Smith, H. L., 477; a new rhinoplastic operation, Bloxam, A., 501.

Nuclein in diphtheria, Jackson, W., 422.

Nurses. Trained nursing, Worcester, A., 1.

Obstetrics. Recent progress in obstetrics, Reynolds, E., 208.

Orthman's instrument in vaginal fixation of the uterus, Sherman, F. S. M., 159.

Orthopedic Surgery. Recent progress in orthopedic surgery, Bradford, E. H., and Brackett, E. G., 132, 154.

Osgood, F. H. Tuberculosis among our neat cattle, 326, 336.

Osler, W. Address before the Association of American Physicians, 599.

Otis, E. O. Some methods of chest examination supplementary to auscultation and percussion, 355; the treatment of advanced (hopeless) cases of phthisis, 609, 621.

Otis, W. J. Clinical features and treatment of external piles, 269.

Otis, W. K. Aero-urethroscopy, 519.

Paddock, F. K. Address at dinner of the Massachusetts Medical Society, 618.

Pancreas. A case of pancreatic cyst treated by drainage, Richardson, M. H., 280; surgical treatment of pancreatitis, with a case, Elliot, J. W., 351, 361; hemorrhagic pancreatitis, Cutler, E. G., 354, 361; pathological aspects of pancreatitis, Whitney, W. F., 361; a case of suppurative pancreatitis, with necropsy, Atkinson, I. E., 575; two cases of fat necrosis, Stockton, C. G., 626.

Paquin, P. Treatment of tuberculosis, latest report of cases treated with blood-serum, 547.
Park, R. Acute infectious processes in bone, 425, 438.
Parker, C. B. The surgical treatment of injuries of the head, 110.
Pasteur Institute and vivisection, 342.
Patella. A case of subcutaneous suture of a fractured patella, Keefe, J. W., 10.
Patent medicine bill in Minnesota, 318.
Pathology. Recent progress in pathology, Councilman, W. T., 256, 282.
Pattee, A. F. The therapeutics of the senile heart, 549.
Pean. The triumph of M. Péan, 291.
Pennsylvania Hospital. A history of the Pennsylvania Hospital, 470.
Peritonitis. The surgical treatment of general peritonitis, 115; the microbiology of acute peritonitis, 189.
Perry, A. P. The good old times, 447.
Phelps, J. S. Multilocular cyst of the ovary, double ovariotomy, recovery, 185.
Philadelphia. The position of the Philadelphia Hospital trustees, 18.
Phillips, L. The cause of premature baldness, 474.
Phimosis. Congenital phimosis, 142.
Phthisis. Remarks upon two hundred cases of phthisis, Sears, G. G., 323, 334; the treatment of advanced (hopeless) cases of phthisis, Otis, E. O., 609, 621.
Physical Training. The educational aspects of physical training, Brooks, W. A., Jr., 562, 567.
Physician. The trend of improvement in the physician by reason of increasing competition, or the hospital physician vs. the independent practitioner, Taylor, J. M., 23; "a medical man as partner," 46; the physician's extra-professional duties, Worcester, A., 585.
Poisons. A fatal case of poisoning by Mayo's vegetable vapor, Sweetsir, F. E., 107; leucomain poisoning, Rachford, B. K., 599.
Poncet. Actinomycosis in France, 291.
Pope, A. A. State roads in Massachusetts, 474.
Porter, C. B. Myoma of the uterus, 62.
Poultice. The flaxseed-meal poultice as a sterile dressing, Lovett, R. W., 329.
Powers, C. A. Cancer of the upper lip, etc., correction, 47.
Practice. In active practice at the age of one hundred and two, 394; recent advance in the practice of medicine, Quine, W. E., 543; a medical-practice law in Rhode Island, 604.
Pregnancy, Affections connected with. A case of concealed uterine hemorrhage, Tuttle, A. H., 35; two cases of sudden death in childbed, Broughton, H. W., 53, 62; the first symphyseotomies in America, 171; cases of pregnancy complicated by heart disease, Sears, G. G., 176; Cæsarean section, with the report of a case, Haven, G., 179, 188; symphyseotomy, Jackson, J. M., 181, 188; recent progress in obstetrics, Reynolds, E., 208; a case of sextuplets, Vassali, 243; the care of the breasts after labor, Reynolds, E., 345; cases of retrodeviation of the pregnant uterus, including a case of pregnancy in an incarcerated cornu, and a case complicated by an ovarian tumor, with remarks, Burrage, W. L., 380, 388; a case of rupture of the membranes in the sixth month, Worcester, A., 389; symphyseotomy, with report of a successful case, Savage, T. R., 468; report of four cases of puerperal eclampsia occurring in the Boston City Hospital, Courtney, S. E., 486; a case of eclampsia, death, Hare, C. H., 487, 490; early curetting in puerperal sepsis, Marion, H. E., 538; pelvic inflammations, Green, C. M., 541; a long period of fecundity, Kellogg, D. S., 554; puerperal septicemia, with case, Currie, J. Z., 612.
Prescott, W. H. Calculi of the kidney, with hydronephrosis, 208; does etherization ever cause acute lobar pneumonia? 304, 308.
Preston, G. J. The effects of pure oxygen introduced into the body in various ways upon the hemoglobin, 549.
Proctor, F. I. Some of the simpler tests for detecting errors of refraction and insufficiencies of the ocular muscles, 481.
Proprietary medicines, 494.
Putnam, J. J. Four cases of brain surgery, 14; some of the important aspects of the therapeutics of diseases of the nervous system, 15; remarks on the psychical treatment of neurasthenia, 505, 516.
Quine, W. E. Malarial disorders in large cities with especial reference to Chicago, 494; recent advances in the practice of medicine, 543.
Race. A novel form of obstacle race, 654.
Rachford, B. K. Leucomain poisoning, 599.
Railways. Bone and joint tuberculosis the future field of litigation against railways, Lanphear, E., 87.
Ransohoff, J. Concerning stone in the kidney and the operative treatment, 518.
Rape. Anthony, F. W., 29, 56.
Recent Progress. Ophthalmology, Standish, M., 11; genito-urinary surgery, Watson, F. S., 35; children, Rotch, T. M., and Wentworth, A. H., 59; diseases of the nervous system, Knapp, P. C., 81, 108; orthopedic surgery, Bradford, E. H., and Brackett, E. G., 132, 154; laryngology, Coolidge, A., Jr., 186; obstetrics, Reynolds, E., 208; legal medicine, Draper, F. W., 232; pathology, Councilman, W. T., 256, 282; dermatology, Bowen, J. T., 305; public hygiene, Abbott, S. W., 359, 385; thoracic diseases, Sears, G. G., 405; gynecology, Davenport, F. H., 461; surgery, Burrell, H. L., and Cushing, H. W., 488, 540, 565; anatomy, Dwight, T., 596; mental diseases, Stedman, H. R., 642.
Rectum. Is total extirpation of the rectum ever justified? Matthews, J. M., 522; colotomy and extirpation in cases of cancer of the rectum, Adler, L. H., 522.
Registration. Examinations by the Massachusetts Board of Registration in Medicine, 341; Massachusetts registration report, 655.
Research. Scientific research in medicine, 419.
Respiratory System. Metapneumonic empyema, Withington, C. F., 5, 12; recent progress in laryngology, Coolidge, A., Jr., 186; the abortive treatment of acute bronchitis, 238; does etherization ever cause acute lobar pneumonia? Prescott, W. H., 304; remarks upon two hundred cases of phthisis, Sears, G. G., 323, 334; cold in the treatment of pneumonia, Mays, T. J., 343; some methods of chest examination supplementary to auscultation and percussion, Otis, E. O., 355; methods of treatment of empyema, Bonney, S. G., 373; diphtheria, intubation, nasal feeding, recovery, Stevens, C. B., 404; recent progress in thoracic diseases, Sears, G. G., 405; criticism on the usual method of measurement of chest-expansion in life-insurance examinations, and stethokyrtographical studies of the bilateral expansion of the chest, Hegner, K., 453; radical interference in diseases of the chest, Gaston, J. McF., 521; a case of pulmonary hypertrophic osteo-arthropathy, Davis, N. S., Jr., 547; renal affections following influenza, Baumgarten, G., 600; the treatment of advanced (hopeless) cases of phthisis, Otis, E. O., 609, 621; the cause of the exaggeration of sounds over the right upper chest both in health and disease, Cary, C., 626.
Reynolds, A. R. Mortality of Chicago during the past winter, 422.
Reynolds, E. Recent progress in obstetrics, 209; the care of the breasts after labor, 345.
Rheumatism. Acute gonorrheal rheumatism, Lilienthal, H., 75.
Rhode Island. A medical-practice law in Rhode Island, 604.
Richards, G. L. Halle and the aural clinic of Professor Schwartze, 275.
Richardson, M. H. A case of pancreatic cyst treated by drainage, recovery, 280; pathological specimens, 284; two cases of dermoid cyst of the ovary involving the large intestine, removal of cysts, resection of intestine and end-to-end suture, recovery, 399, 408.
Ricketts, B. M. Trephining in meningitis, 21; castration for hypertrophied prostate, removal of head of femur for dislocation into lesser sciatic notch, trephining for pressure as a result of fluid in acute cerebral meningitis, 110; flat foot, supra-malleolar osteotomy, with report of a case, photographs and specimens of feet of man, orang, baboon, chimpanzee and gorilla, 524.
Roads. State roads in Massachusetts, Pope, A. A., 474.
Rochester, Del. Report on thirty-four cases of tuberculosis treated by Carasso's method, 545.
Rodman, W. L. Tumors of the mammary gland, 522.
Roeth, A. C. Serum therapy in Paris, 22.
Rogers, F. A. The histogenesis of the plasmodium malariæ, 125.
Rosse, I. C. Brief mention of a few cases of nervous and mental malady involving medico-legal questions, 173.
Rotch, T. M., and Wentworth, A. H. Report on diseases in children, 59.
Roussel, A. E. Lead encephalopathy, with report of a case, 550.
Rumination. Three cases of hereditary rumination, Runge, E. C., 515.
Runge, E. C. Three cases of hereditary rumination, 515.
Rush monument fund, 494.
Salt Solution. Transfusion of blood or infusion of salt solution, 526.
Sanitary climatology, 92
Savage, T. R. Symphyseotomy, with report of a successful case, 468.
Scarlet Fever. Some cases of scarlet fever with especial reference to contagion and prophylaxis, Holyoke, W. C., 32; "scarlet fever with especial reference to contagion and prophylaxis," Curtis, F. G., 71.
Schede. Another case of cocaine poisoning, 582.
Sears, G. G. A case of congenital diaphragmatic hernia, 107; cases of pregnancy complicated by heart disease, 176; remarks on two hundred cases of phthisis, 323, 334; recent progress in thoracic diseases, 405.
Senn, N. Treatment of malignant tumors by the toxines of the streptococcus of erysipelas, 521.
Sherman, F. M. Orthman's instrument in vaginal fixation of the uterus, 159.
Skull. A case of fracture of the base of the skull, involving the cavernous sinuses, operation, recovery, Watson, F. S., 78.
Sloan, A. T. A successful case of cardiocentesis, 368.
Small-Pox. Double nasal athesia due to small-pox, Loeb, H. W., 112.
Smith, A. The use of the differential stethoscope in the study of cardiac murmurs, 626.
Smith, G. S. A case of frog-skin grafting, 79.
Smith, H. L. Cases illustrating the plastic surgery of the nose and palate; an operation for cleft palate, 477.
Snegirew, W. F. Steam as a hemostatic, 142.
Societies. American Medical Association, 493, 518, 543, 574; American Neurological Association, 557; Association of American Physicians, 599, 624, 645; Boston Society for Medical Improvement, 12, 62, 159, 234, 258, 284, 308, 360, 387, 516, 567; Boston Society for Medical Observation, 39, 210; German Society of Surgery, 553; Massachusetts Medical Society, 165, 616, 644; Massachusetts Medico-Legal Society, 418; Mississippi Valley Medical Association, 87, 110; New York Academy of Medicine, 363; New York County Medical Association, 468; New York Neurological Society, 14, 416; Obstetrical Society of Boston, 188, 388, 408, 541, 598; Suffolk District Medical Society, 83, 135, 163, 334, 412, 438, 464, 490, 621.
Spear, E. D. The nasal origin of many trigeminal neuralgias, 412.
Spina Bifida. A successful operation on a spina bifida, Woodward, S. B., 460.
Splints. The new surgical splinting, Tracey, E. A., 525, 554.
Standish, M. Recent progress in ophthalmology, 11.
Stapedectomy. Remarks on stapedectomy, Jack, F. L., 34, 39.
Starr, M. A. Exhibition of micro-photographs of nerve cells (Golgi's stains), 14.
State Medicine. Address on State Medicine, American Medical Association, Holton, H. D., 496.
Steam as a hemostatic, Snegirew, W. F., 142.
Stedman, H. R. Asylum physicians and commitment certificates, 321; report on mental diseases, 642.
Sternberg, G. M., and Reed, W. Report on immunity against vaccination, conferred upon the monkey by the use of the serum of the vaccinated calf and monkey, 601.
Sterne, A. E. Toxic origin of nervous diseases, 549.
Stevens, C. B. Diphtheria, intubation, nasal feeding, recovery, 404.
Stewart, D. D. Electrolysis in the treatment of sacculated aneurysm, through introduced wire, with report of a successful case, 523.

Stewart, W. B. Calomel: a study of its physiological action and therapy in 144 cases of gastro-intestinal disorders; is it a diuretic, per se? 544.
Stieglitz, L. Pathological specimen of infantile paralysis, 416.
Stockton, C. G. Two cases of fat necrosis, 626.
Stomach-Tube. The value of the stomach-tube in feeding after intubation, based upon twenty-eight cases; also its use in post-diphtheritic paralysis, Morrison, W. A., 127, 137.
Stone, A. K. Transverse septa of the vagina, 533, 543.
Suicide. Persistent attempts at self-destruction, a remarkable method of suicide, Morrow, C. H., 334.
Summers, T. O. Leucocytes and protonuclein, 576.
Surgery. Recent progress in surgery, Burrell, H. L., and Cushing, H. W., 488, 540, 565; address on surgery, American Medical Association, Wheaton, C. A., 495; scientific uses of the surgical flap, Broom, G. W., 524.
Sutton, R. S. Laparotomy for pelvic diseases no longer a necessity, 112.
Syphilis. The mental symptoms of cerebral syphilis: a clinical study, Norbury, F. P., 110.
Sweetsir, F. E. A fatal case of poisoning by Mayo's vegetable vapor, 107.
Swift, W. N. Cancer of right kidney, nephrectomy, no recurrence after eighteen months, 384.
Symphyseotomy. The first symphyseotomies in America, 171; Jackson, J. M., 181, 188.
"Taches bleuatres." Observations upon cases having the so-called "taches bleuâtres" in the Boston City Hospital, Bowditch, V. Y., 231.
Taylor, J. M. The trend of improvement in the physician by reason of increasing competition, or the hospital physician vs. the independent practitioner, 23; another case of "fracture of the humerus from an unusual cause," 551.
Temperance teaching in the public schools, 471.
Tenement-Houses. Report on New York tenement-houses, 91.
Tetanus. The treatment of tetanus by antitoxin, 287.
Throat. Some observations on sore throat due to concretions in the tonsils, Cline, L. C., 111; milk-borne throat illness; phenomenal epidemic, Kenwood, 631.
Thyroid. A report of one thousand excisions of the thyroid, 527.
Tisdale, W. M. The invalid tourist in Southern California, 194.
Torrey, S. W. Case of septum of vagina, 539.
Townsend, C. W. Bicycling for women, 593; bicycle saddles, 631.
Tracey, E. A. The new surgical splinting, 525, 554.
Trowbridge, E. H. Surgical treatment of hemorrhoids, 536.
Tuberculin. Report from an early case of tuberculin injection, 342.
Tuberculosis. Bone and joint tuberculosis the future field of litigation against railways, Lanphear, E., 87; tuberculosis among our neat cattle, Osgood, F. H., 326, 336; the British Royal Commission on tuberculosis, 498; report on thirty-four cases of tuberculosis treated by Carasso's method, Rochester, DeL., 545; treatment of tuberculosis; latest report of cases treated with blood-serum, Paquin, P., 547.
Tumors. Treatment of malignant tumors by the toxines of the streptococcus of erysipelas, Senn, N., 521.
Tuttle, A. H. A case of concealed uterine hemorrhage, 25.
Typhoid Fever. Clinical chart of a child with mild typhoid fever, Marion, H. E., 64; reports on typhoid fever, 574.
Urinary System. Case of unilateral cystic degeneration of the kidney complicated by tubercular peritonitis, Clarke, A. P., 10; Bright's disease of a primarily infectious nature, 40; the importance of urinalysis in diagnosis, Walker, A. B., 89; castration for hypertrophied prostate, Ricketts, B. M., 110; remarks on the relation of residual urine to vesical irritation, especially in prostatics, Lydston, G. F., 112; castration for hypertrophy of the prostate, 116; on some of the clinical features of primary tuberculosis of the genito-urinary organs, Watson, F. S., 121, 135; notes of a case of tubercular disease of the kidney, Wolcott, G., 131, 136; a case of persistent hematuria, Denny, C. F., 183; traumatic glycosuria, Higgins, F. A., and Ogden, J. B., 197; calculi of the kidney, with hydronephrosis, Prescott, W. H., 208; effects of castration upon the enlarged prostate, Fenwick, E. H., 518; report of cases of castration for the relief of prostatic hypertrophy, with remarks, Watson, F. S., 378; cancer of right kidney, nephrectomy, no recurrence after eighteen months, Swift, W. N., 384; a quick method for the filtration of a small quantity of urine, Bishop, L. F., 405; a case of castration for hypertrophied prostate, Gavin, M. F., 437; concerning stone in the kidney and its operative treatment, Ransohoff, J., 518; aero-urethroscopy, Otis, W. K., 519; the value of urethroscopy in chronic urethritis, with demonstrations of the Nitzeoberlaender, Casper and Posner urethroscopes and other urethral instruments, Valentine, F. C., 519; movable kidney, Gage, H., 520; renal affections following influenza, Baumgarten, G., 600.
Vaccination. End of a vaccine virus controversy, Bowker, E. M., 583; report on immunity against vaccination conferred upon the monkey by the use of the serum of the vaccinated calf and monkey, Sternberg, G. M., and Reed, W., 601; "end of a vaccine virus controversy," Martin, F. C., 607.
Valentine, F. C. The value of urethroscopy in chronic urethritis, with demonstrations of the Nitzeoberlaender, Casper and Posner urethroscopes and other urethral instruments, 519.
Vassali. A case of sextuplets, 243.
Vital Statistics of England for 1894, 472.
Vivisection. Dogs, women, men, humanity, 290; the control of vivisection, Wood, H. C., 342; the American Humane Association and vivisection, Leffingwell, A., 343; vivisection; a reply to H. C. Wood, M.D., Nichols, A. H., 370; a reply to Prof. H. C. Wood, Leffingwell, A., 371; a reply to Dr. Albert Leffingwell, Wood, H. C., 395; Dr. Leffingwell to Dr. Wood, 423.
Walker, A. B. The importance of urinalysis in diagnosis, 89.
Walker, E. Reflex irritation as a cause of disease, 89.
Walton. Anatomical specimens, 415.
Warren, J. C. A fibroid tumor of the uterus, 361.
Water. A metropolitan water-supply, 215; hydrotherapy in fevers, its rationale and technique, Burr, A. H., 547; bacteriology of water-supplies, 651.
Watson, F. S. Recent progress in genito-urinary surgery, 35; a case of fracture of the base of the skull, involving the cavernous sinus, operation, recovery, 78; on some of the clinical features of primary tuberculosis of the genito-urinary organs, 121, 135; report of cases of castration for the relief of prostatic hypertrophy, with remarks, 378, 387.
Webber, S. G. Sulphonal and trional compared, 516.
Webster, G. W. The differential diagnosis of cholelithiasis, 574.
Welch, W. H. Diphtheria antitoxin, 645.
West Point. A chair of anatomy, physiology and hygiene at West Point, 92.
Wheaton, C. A. Address on surgery, American Medical Association, 495.
Wheeler, L. The treatment of uterine fibroids, with report of cases, 103.
Whitney, W. F. Pathological aspects of pancreatitis, 361.
Whittaker, J. T. Etiology of idiopathic hypertrophy of the heart, 624.
Wiener, A. Brain specimen, 415.
Wigglesworth, E. Galactopathy, 219.
Wilder, B. G. A mindless frog, 22; unusual malformations of the brain, 46.
Winslow, K. Notes on antitoxin, 22.
Wirt, W. E. Tumor albus of the knee-joint, 111.
Withington, C. F. Metapneumonic empyema, 5, 12; the antitoxin treatment for diphtheria, 249, 260; heat prostration, an analysis of one hundred cases occurring in thirteen consecutive years, 511.
Wolcott, G. Notes of a case of tubercular disease of the kidney, 131, 136.
Wood, H. C. The control of vivisection, 342; a reply to Dr. Albert Leffingwell, 395.
Woodbridge, J. E. Reports on typhoid fever, 574.
Woodward, S. B. A successful operation on a spina bifida, 460.
Worcester, A. Trained nursing, 1; a case of rupture of the membranes in the sixth month, 389; the physician's extra-professional duties, 585.
Wright, J. H. and Stokes, W. R. A report on the bacteriological investigations of autopsies, 271, 330.
Wry-neck. Excision of the sterno-mastoid muscle for wry-neck, 579.
Wyeth, J. A. An original osteoplastic operation for the removal of large vascular tumors growing in the vault of the naso-pharynx, antrum of Highmore, spheno-maxillary and pterygo-maxillary fissures, 522.

6095